

Vision and Hearing Screening

This screening assesses a child's ability to see and hear. The school nurse will administer a vision and hearing screening based on the level of the preschool aged child. This screening will assess whether a child may need further examination of their vision and hearing or if their vision and hearing ability may be impeding their development.